1. Defeat the Terrorists and Neutralize the Insurgents

Operation Koa Canyon, a combined Iraqi Army and Coalition Force operation, finished on January 27 along the western Euphrates River Valley after finding and destroying 45 weapons caches and detaining 20 suspected insurgents.

2. Transition Iraq to Security Self-Reliance

Iraqi security forces took control of security for Diwaniyah and Wasit provinces from Multi-National Division Central-South on January 26.

3. Help Iraqis to Forge a National Compact for Democratic Government

According to press reports, a leader of a main Sunni Arab bloc in the next parliament, Adnan al-Dulaimi of the Iraq Accordance Front, indicated he would oppose Shi'a Arabs serving as Defense or Interior Ministers.

4. Help Iraq Build Government Capacity and Provide Essential Services

A deceased girl from Sulaymaniyah Province is the first confirmed human case of avian influenza in Iraq. She died January 17 and laboratory tests showed that she had the deadly strain. A UN World Health Organization Response Team is en route to Iraq. The US Embassy in Baghdad is working to identify additional needs and is preparing multilingual educational materials.

5. Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy

On January 23, the Ministry of Finance issued bonds worth $2.7 billion to settle $14 billion of Iraq's largest commercial debts. The bonds pay out 20 percent of the original debt and will mature in 2028.

6. Help Iraq Strengthen the Rule of Law

Saddam Hussein's lawyers said on January 31 they would not attend the next session on February 1 and threatened to boycott future sessions under a new chief judge they accuse of bias.

7. Increase International Support for Iraq

The Special Representative of the Secretary-General Ashraf Qazi condemned the explosions that were carried out on January 29 in coordinated sequence in the vicinity of churches in Baghdad and Kirkuk.

8. Strengthen Public Understanding of Coalition Efforts and Public Isolation of the Insurgents

In the State of the Union Address on January 31, President Bush affirmed, "Our work in Iraq is difficult because our enemy is brutal. But that brutality has not stopped the dramatic progress of a new democracy. In less than three years, the nation has gone from dictatorship to liberation, to sovereignty, to a constitution, to national elections."

Operation Koa Canyon:

- Operation Koa Canyon, a combined Iraqi Army and Coalition Force operation, finished last Friday along the western Euphrates River Valley after finding and destroying 45 weapons caches and detaining 20 suspected insurgents. The operation's aim was to defeat the insurgency between the Jubbah/Baghdadi region and the city of Hit. No Iraqi or Coalition forces were injured during the operation.

Soldiers Detain Kidnapping Cell Leader:

- Multinational Division Baghdad soldiers used a tip from a local Iraqi citizen to help detain a suspected kidnapping cell leader on January 28. Soldiers from the 1st Battalion, 87th Infantry Regiment, 1st Brigade, 10th Mountain Division detained the suspected criminal. In his home they found a sniper rifle, improvised explosive device batteries, timers and circuit boards.

[2.] Transition to Security Self-Reliance – Iraqi Security Forces

Iraqi Security Forces Take Control Battlespace:

- Iraqi security forces took control of security for Diwaniyah and Wasit provinces from Multi-National Division South-Central (MNDCS) on January 26. MNDCS in cooperation with Iraqi security forces started building the combat power of Iraq at the beginning of 2005 through intensive training processes. In total, MNDCS trained more than 20,000 Iraqi soldiers and policemen.

Forward Operating Base Honor Turnover to the ISF:

- Forward Operating Base (FOB) Honor is the 33rd of 111 Coalition Force bases to be turned over to Iraqi Security Forces as part of the FOB turnover plan. It demonstrates the increased capability of Iraqi units to assume greater responsibility for the security of their country. The Coalition has turned over more than a quarter of their FOBs to Iraqi forces and will continue this program in a phased, conditions-based manner.

[4.] Help Iraq Build Government Capacity and Provide Essential Services – Electricity Overview

Daily Electricity Supplied and Estimated Demand in Iraq Since January 2004

- Electricity availability in Baghdad continued to improve slightly, although still critically low, during the week of January 24-30, with an average of 5.1 hours per day. Performance by Baghdad area plants improved with the return to service of several large units.
- Nationwide average electricity availability was steady at 9.3 hours per day.
- Demand grew in the last week with a dip in seasonal temperatures.
- Despite the decreased levels, electricity output for the month of January is on average 5 percent higher than it was a year ago.

Water and Sanitation:

- On December 31, an Iraqi construction company completed a US government funded $526,000 Water Treatment Repair Project in Mansour, Baghdad Province. The facility is capable of producing 30 million gallons of chlorinated, potable water per day and will benefit over 300,000 Baghdad residents.
- On January 12, an Iraqi construction company completed a US government funded $20,000 sewage system renovation in Zafraniya, Baghdad Province. The sewage system benefits 200,000 residents in the Zafraniya community of Baghdad.
- On January 24, construction was completed on the Tammoz Water Station in Mahmoudiya. Using an Iraqi firm, this project constructed a 2 kilometer extension of the potable water lines with associated facilities. This extension will transport water from the main pipeline and distribute it to residential and commercial points to serve the 48,000 Mahmoudiya residents.

Public Health and Healthcare:

- A deceased girl from Sulaymaniyah Province in northern Iraq is the first confirmed human case of avian influenza in Iraq. The girl died January 17 and laboratory tests by the US Naval Medical Research Unit in Cairo showed that she tested positive for the deadly strain. The Government of Iraq requested support from the World Health Organization and a Response Team is en route to Iraq to investigate. The Avian Influenza Working Group at US Embassy in Baghdad is working to identify additional expertise that is needed, and educational posters and handouts are being prepared for distribution in Arabic and Kurdish.

Education:

- Two primary schools for girls and boys have received essential supplies through a USAID Iraqi Transition Initiative (ITI) grant. In an effort to assist the municipality and help reinforce its legitimacy, the ITI grant provided desks and chairs, blackboards, heaters, water coolers, computer and printing equipment, and sports supplies and uniforms.
- Over 500 students and staff from the girls' school and 700 students and staff from the boys' school have benefited from the dedicated grants.
- An estimated 310,000 Iraqi school children are benefiting from the 791 schools renovated and new schools completed by GRD/PCO to date. A further 12 schools are under construction. Under the Accelerated Iraqi Reconstruction Program, an additional 24 school renovations have been completed.

Communications Update:

- The installation of the Advanced First Responders Network (AFRN) was completed on January 31. The system provides a radio network in 15 cities in support of the Iraqi Police and the Ministry of Interior. The US government is now providing support for maintenance and operations of the AFRN.
- Cellphone companies report a total of 5.4 million subscribers, continuing the strong growth of this sector.
- The National Communications and Media Commission (NCMC), Iraq’s Federal Communications Commission equivalent, is evaluating bids for Wireless Local Loop telephone licenses. The NCMC is expected to award licenses in early 2006.

[5.] Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy – Oil Update and Job Creation

Oil Update:

- Crude oil prices in world markets for the week ending January 27 closed with the following prices:
 - Basra Light at $57.31/barrel
 - Dated Brent at $64.18/barrel
 - WTI Cushing at $66.79/barrel
 - Oman/Dubai at $60.24/barrel

Iraq Issues New Iraqi Bonds as Part of Commercial Debt Restructuring:

- On January 23, the Ministry of Finance issued bonds worth $2.7 billion to settle $14 billion of Iraq's largest commercial debts. The bonds pay out 20 percent of the original debt and will mature in 2028. These terms will approximate those given to Iraq by the Paris Club nations. Press reports suggest that Iraq may issue more bonds worth $300-400 million to settle $1.5-2 billion owed to other creditors.

USAID to Provide Nationwide Market Information:

- The USAID Agricultural Reconstruction and Development in Iraq (ARDI) program established a system to provide up-to-date information on wholesale fruit and vegetable market prices to traders. This electronic messaging program is currently the only forum through which national prices are published, and will be transmitted via email, radio, television, internet, mobile phones, and newspapers.
- This new program will enable buyers and sellers to make sound business decisions based on economic factors.

Strategic Communications:

- In the State of the Union Address on January 31, President Bush affirmed, “Our work in Iraq is difficult because our enemy is brutal. But that brutality has not stopped the dramatic progress of a new democracy. In less than three years, the nation has gone from dictatorship to liberation, to sovereignty, to a constitution, to national elections. At the same time, our coalition has been relentless in shutting off terrorist infiltration, clearing out insurgent strongholds, and turning over territory to Iraqi security forces. I am confident in our plan for victory; I am confident in the will of the Iraqi people; I am confident in the skill and spirit of our military. Fellow citizens, we are in this fight to win, and we are winning.”
 - The President continued, “The road of victory is the road that will take our troops home. As we make progress on the ground, and Iraqi forces increasingly take the lead, we should be able to further decrease our troop levels, but those decisions will be made by our military commanders, not by politicians in Washington, DC.”
- On January 26, Ambassador James Jeffrey, Senior Advisor to Secretary Rice and Coordinator for Iraq Policy, led a discussion on "The Way Forward in Iraq: An Integrated Political-Military-Economic Strategy" on the State Department website, "Ask the State Department." Ambassador Jeffrey answered participant questions on updating the Iraqi educational system, US funding for reconstruction and the role of Iran in Iraq.

- The chart shows average daily power production in megawatt hours (MWh). 120,000 MWh goal equates to 20 hours at 6000 MW average supplied load or 24 hours at 5000 MW average supply load. Currently supplies are not much improved over last year when judged by hours of power, but this is due in part to an influx of new appliances. This has dramatically altered demand and diluted the effect of increased generation capacity on actual results.

- Iraq Petroleum Sector Facts
- There are three main refineries in Iraq: Bayji (North), Daura (Baghdad), and Basra (South).
- There are several minor refineries (known as topping plants) dotted through the country: Kisik (Mosul), Qarrayah, Haditha, Tikrit, Nassiriyah, Maysan (Amarah), and Samawah. These primarily produce asphalt and low grade kerosene and diesel.
- The majority of Iraq's oil infrastructure is antiquated and in need of modernization.
- Domestically produced refined products (gasoline/benzene, diesel, kerosene, LPG) currently do not meet domestic demand because of sabotage to the pipeline infrastructure. Iraq will be dependent upon imports until the insurgents cease operations against oil pipelines.
