Iraqi Special Operations Forces (ISOF) Conduct Operation in Baghdad:

- On March 26, Soldiers from the 1st and 2nd Battalions, 1st Iraqi Special Operations Forces Brigade, conducted a coordinated operation in northeast Baghdad to capture and detain insurgents responsible for kidnapping and execution activities. Iraqi commandos and soldiers from the Iraqi Counterterrorism Force killed 16 insurgents and wounded three others during a house-to-house search on an objective with multiple structures.
 - They also detained 18 other individuals, discovered a significant weapons cache and secured the release of an Iraqi being held hostage. The weapons cache discovered on the objective included 32 AK-47 assault rifles, five grenades, four rocket-propelled grenades, two RPG launchers, two RPK heavy machine guns, 12 crush switch indicators used to make improvised explosive devices and several rounds of ammunition. The cache was destroyed on the scene along with two vehicles that contained weapons and IED making material.
 - This mission, planned and executed by the ISOF and advised by US Special Operations Forces, was conducted at a time that mitigated risk to innocent Iraqi bystanders and minimized the risk of collateral damage. No mosques were entered or damaged during this operation.

Central Bank's US Dollar (USD) Currency Auction:

- The following table shows volume sold and exchange rates for USD in the Iraqi currency auction since November 1, 2005. The dinar remained stable against the dollar this week, ending at 1,478 dinars per USD on March 26.

*On March 22, the CBI purchased $3,000,000 of Iraqi Dinars at the exchange rate of 1475 NID/$.

*The NID exchange rate line is calculated as a weekly weighted average.

[5.] Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy – Securities Markets

Trading of Iraqi Bonds on the International Secondary Bond Market:

- The following table shows the daily bond resale price and yield on Iraqi bonds issued January 20. The bonds were originally issued to about two-thirds of Iraq's commercial creditors as part of a debt exchange arrangement at Paris Club terms. Iraq's commercial debt was approximately $22 billion before the debt-swap arrangement. The bonds, which are not yet rated, will mature in 2028. These are the only Iraqi sovereign debt instruments trading on the international market. The bonds' current yield of 9.24 percent is slightly lower than Ecuador and Argentina, but still one of the highest in the world for sovereign debt instruments.

Iraqi Commercial Bond Sales
January 20, 2006 - March 24, 2006

Trading High = $73.98 (January 24)

Trading Low = $67.76 (March 8)

— Bond Price — Yield

[5.] Help Iraq Strengthen Its Economy - Agriculture

Restoring Iraq's Agricultural Sector:

- USAID's Agriculture Reconstruction and Development Program for Iraq (ARDI) in partnership with the Ministry of Agriculture and two American equipment providers, has repaired 1,543 tractors in workshops across Iraq. USAID is training Iraqi mechanics to repair at least 5,000 inoperable tractors by September.
- USAID's program will establish a countrywide network of fourteen privately owned repair shops and 180 trained Iraqi mechanics. The repaired tractors could expand cultivated lands by approximately 45,000 hectares.

Iraq's Inflation Rate:

- Iraq's February monthly inflation was 13 percent, and the official consumer price index is up nearly 20 percent from the start of the year through February. However, the statistics are not seasonally adjusted, and the spring and summer months tend to have low or even negative price movements – so overall inflation for 2006 may eventually not be nearly as high as the first two months' data might indicate.

2006 is Declared the “Year of the Police”:

- Coalition forces now are focusing on upgrades to Iraq’s security forces, calling 2006 “the year of the police,” says US Army Lieutenant General Martin Dempsey, head of the Multi-National Security Transition Command in Iraq. “What we’re seeing now is progress on a three-year investment in Iraq’s security forces. It’s been a big investment, and it’s yielding big progress,” LTG Dempsey told reporters at a March 24 press briefing from Baghdad. LTG Dempsey said that this progress could be seen in a growing Iraqi army that increasingly leads counterinsurgency operations, as well as in a police force that will be responsible for security along all 3,631 kilometers of Iraq’s borders by July.

[7.] Increase International Support for Iraq – Developments

SRSG Qazi Urges for Expedited Government Formation:

- Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Iraq (SRSG) Ashraf Qazi strongly condemned the continuing deterioration of the human rights situation in Iraq. The SRSG said he was saddened and appalled by the daily cases of torture, arbitrary arrests, and extrajudicial executions that have affected all communities and led to the internal displacement of Iraqi civilians. He called on the Iraqi authorities to take firm action to stop the violence and ensure that citizens enjoy the rights and protection stipulated by Iraqi and international laws. He stated that Iraqis should speed up the formation of a government that will assert respect for human rights and the rule of law.

Arab League Discusses Iraq's Future:

- The Arab League Summit began March 28 in Khartoum to discuss issues involving Iraq's future. In his opening speech, Secretary-General Amr Moussa stated that any solution for the Iraqi problem cannot be reached without Arab participation. In his opening speech, Algerian President Abd al-Aziz Bouteflika called on Iraqis to close ranks to avoid a sectarian conflict pitting the country's Shiite majority against the once-dominant Sunni Arab minority. He said Iraq's neighbors should honestly cooperate with the Iraqi people to preserve the country's integrity and unity.

[8.0] Strengthen Public Understanding of Coalition Efforts and Public Isolation of the Insurgents – Developments

Communications:

- Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice spoke on Fox News Sunday on March 26 regarding the progress on the security and political tracks in Iraq. “Well, as General Casey has said, if Iraqi forces continue to develop in the way that they have: they're taking and holding territory; they performed very well in the light of this recent sectarian violence, the Army did, then it is entirely likely that there will be drawdowns of American forces over this next year. It's conditions-based and no one wants to make any definitive statement because, of course, you want to know the conditions. But the Iraqi forces are making a lot of progress and the political system is making progress. I know it's slower than we would like it to be. But for the first time, Sunnis and Shia and the Kurds and others are sitting down and they're working toward a government of national unity and that also is an important part of the picture as to why the stability in this country will grow.”

- The chart shows average daily power production in megawatt hours (MWh). 120,000 MWh goal equates to 20 hours at 6000 MW average supplied load or 24 hours at 5000 MW average supply load. Currently supplies are not much improved over last year when judged by hours of power, but this is due in part to an influx of new appliances. This has dramatically altered demand and diluted the effect of increased generation capacity on actual results.
