ARMS SHIPMENTS TO INDIA AND PAKISTAN DURING THE SECOND HALF OF 1975*

KEY POINTS

- India's military imports during the last half of 1975 totalled about $82 million compared to a total of about $60 million for Pakistan. This raises the totals for all of 1975 to about $182 million for India and about $91 million for Pakistan.
- The USSR continued to be India's major supplier of military imports, while China was Pakistan's major supplier.
- The most significant Indian imports were 25 SA-3 and an unknown number of SA-6 surface-to-air missiles; Pakistan's major import was 50 MIG-19 fighters from China.
- Neither country imported items which affected its nuclear weapons capability.
- The net impact of the military imports to India and Pakistan and India's domestic production will be to widen still further India's already large edge in military capabilities.
