ARTICLE 2

Central Authorities

1. A Central Authority shall be established by each Party.

2. For the United States of America, the Central Authority shall be the Attorney General or a person designated by him. For the Cayman Islands, the Central Authority shall be the Cayman Mutual Legal Assistance Authority or a person designated by it.

2. The Central Authority of the Requested Party may deny assistance where:

- (a) the request is not made in conformity with the provisions of this Treaty;
- (b) the request relates to a political offense or to an offense under military law which would not be an offense under ordinary criminal law; or
- (c) the request does not establish that there are reasonable grounds for believing:
 - (i) that the criminal offense specified in the request has been committed; and
 - (ii) that the information sought relates to the offense and is located in the territory of the Requested Party.

3. The Central Authority shall deny assistance where the Attorney General of the Requested Party has issued a certificate to the effect that the execution of the request is contrary to the public interest of the Requested Party.

4. 3. The Central Authority of the Requesting Party may request that the application for assistance, its contents and related documents, and the granting of assistance be kept confidential. If the request cannot be executed without breaking confidentiality, the Central Authority of the Requested Party shall so inform the Central Authority of the Requesting Party which shall then determine whether the request should nevertheless be executed.

4. Except as may be permitted under paragraph 1, any information or evidence obtained under this Treaty which has been made public in the territory of the Requesting Party in a proceeding forming part of the prosecution of a criminal offense described in the request may be used only for the following additional purposes:

The terms of this Treaty may be made applicable in whole or in part, to Anguilla, the British Virgin Islands, Montserrat or the Turks and Caicos Islands by Exchange of Notes between the Governments of the United States and United Kingdom. Such Notes shall specify the central authority of the concerned jurisdictions for purposes of assistance under this Treaty.

This Protocol shall form an integral part of the Treaty.

EMBASSY OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

No. 41

The Embassy of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and has the honor to refer to the Treaty Between the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland concerning the Cayman Islands Relating to Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters (hereinafter "the Treaty"), which is being signed this day at Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands by representatives of the Governments of the United States, the United Kingdom and the Cayman Islands.

In the spirit of cooperation, mutual respect and good will existing between the Government of the United States and the Government of the United Kingdom, including the Cayman Islands, concerning mutual legal assistance in criminal matters, the Embassy proposes that, in the interests of facilitating the cooperative use of the Treaty with respect to criminal offenses that fall within its scope and of avoiding measures that could result in a conflict between our respective laws, policies or national interests:

1. The Contracting Parties shall continue to exercise centralized control and carefully screen and evaluate matters that may involve potential areas of conflict and shall consult in good faith, at the instance of either Contracting Party, with respect to such areas.

2. Each Central Authority shall be free to invoke at any time assistance of the Contracting Parties for the purpose of resolving any differences that may arise in connection with the implementation or interpretation of Article 17 of the Treaty.

3. Even in those cases in which the Parties' obligations under Article 17 have been fulfilled with respect to a particular request, each Party shall continue to exercise moderation and restraint in considering the enforcement of unilateral measures to which the other objects for the production or withholding of evidence.

4. Each Central Authority undertakes to discuss with the other any case brought to its attention involving an exercise of jurisdiction with respect to criminal matters which may result in the production of evidence located in the territory of the other Party, with a view to resolving any differences in a mutually satisfactory manner.

It is understood that this Note and any reply do not create any legal obligations; nor do they create any rights on the part of a private person to obtain, suppress, or exclude any evidence or to impede the execution of a request with respect to assistance that may be available under the Treaty.

The Embassy of the United States avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office the assurances of its highest consideration.

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office presents its compliments to the Embassy of the United States of America and has the honour to refer to the Embassy's Note of today's date which reads as follows:

"The Embassy of the United States of America presents its compliments to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and has the honor to refer to the Treaty Between the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland Concerning the Cayman Islands Relating to Mutual Legal Assistance in Criminal Matters [hereinafter "the Treaty"], which is being signed this day at Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands by representatives of the Governments of the United States, the United Kingdom and the Cayman Islands.

In the spirit of cooperation, mutual respect and good will existing between the Government of the United States and the Government of the United Kingdom, including the Cayman Islands, concerning mutual legal assistance in criminal matters, the Embassy proposes that, in the interests of facilitating the cooperative use of the Treaty with respect to criminal offenses that fall within its scope and of avoiding measures that could result in a conflict between our respective laws, policies or national interests:

1. The Contracting Parties shall continue to exercise centralized control and carefully screen and evaluate matters that may involve potential areas of conflict and shall consult in good faith, at the instance of either Contracting Party, with respect to such areas.

2. Each Central Authority shall be free to invoke at any time assistance of the Contracting Parties for the purpose of resolving any differences that may arise in connection with the implementation or interpretation of Article 17 of the Treaty.

3. Even in those cases in which the Parties' obligations under Article 17 have been fulfilled with respect to a particular request, each Party shall continue to exercise moderation and restraint in considering the enforcement of unilateral measures to which the other objects for the production or withholding of evidence.

4. Each Central Authority undertakes to discuss with the other any case brought to his attention involving an exercise of jurisdiction with respect to criminal matters which may result in the production of evidence located in the territory of the other Party, with a view to resolving any differences in a mutually satisfactory manner.

It is understood that this Note and any reply do not create any legal obligations; nor do they create any rights on the part of a private person to obtain, suppress, or exclude any evidence or to impede the execution of a request with respect to assistance that may be available under the Treaty.

The Embassy of the United States avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office the assurances of its highest consideration."

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office confirms that the proposals set out in the Embassy's Note are acceptable to the Government of the United Kingdom and the Government of the Cayman Islands.

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Embassy of the United States of America the assurances of its highest consideration.
