Candidates must be able to type in their target language and are required to upload a translation sample. The translation sample must be accompanied by the original source language text, unedited, and should concern some topic relating to international affairs (e.g., excerpt of a newspaper article, diplomatic document or political speech). Samples must contain approximately 250-300 words. Candidates should be native speakers of their target language(s). Plagiarized samples will be automatically disqualified.

If applying for multiple language combinations, you must submit one sample for each combination. DO NOT SUBMIT MORE THAN ONE SAMPLE PER LANGUAGE COMBINATION.

Typical translation assignments

Translations assigned to contractors cover a wide range of styles and subjects. Typical examples would include laws; treaties and international agreements on technical, scientific, military, economic, and cultural subjects; training manuals; court documents; political speeches and position papers; slide presentations; and official correspondence between government leaders. Hence, suitability of style and fidelity to nuance must accompany a high degree of factual and conceptual accuracy in the target language rendition. High-quality, word-processed output is required.

Other work assigned to contractors includes on-site support for meetings or conferences, summarizing documents, reviewing translations, and ascertaining the substantive conformity of texts written in two or more languages (comparisons).

Contractors receive and return their work by e-mail. All work must be done by the contractor who holds the basic ordering agreement with LS. No translation work may be subcontracted, in whole or in part.
