

PRISTINA, KOSOVO

THE QSI INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL OF KOSOVO (QSIK)

ASSISTED SCHOOL SPECIAL NEEDS PROFILE

NOTE: School situations can change quickly, particularly as schools face cutbacks to learning support programs due to the pandemic, unrest, and economic uncertainty. For the most current information, work with the REO and school. Information in this document was collected by the Department of State's Office of Overseas Schools directly from the school in spring 2023 and shows the availability of services rather than an assessment of the quality of the services. The profile is intended as a jumping off point for a conversation with the REO and school to understand the best fit for your child. Definitions may vary school to school. If a field is not specified, please reach out to the REO listed below for more information.

The QSI International School of Kosovo (QSIK) is a nonprofit, independent, coeducational day school which is part of the greater QSI organization that operates 37 schools in 31 countries. The educational philosophy of QSI is based on mastery learning and outcome-based education. QSI believes in the success of all students and uses time as a resource for learning. QSI teachers create the conditions for student success, with the goal of fostering the love of learning for a lifetime. Read more on the Overseas Schools Fact Sheet.
